GIVE BANQUET FOR GRADUATING CLASS

Senior A's Entertained in Y. W. C. A. Room Last Night.—Wieber Wynstra Toastmaster.

Members of the senior A class were entertained at a banquet in the Y. W. C. A. room last night by the senior B class. Wieber Wynstra, president of the senior B's, acted as toastmaster. Responses were made by Miss Grace Dieus, Orval Mast, Raymond Snyder and President Showalter.

Wieber Wynstra spoke as follows: "Mr. President, members of the faculty, members of the senior A class and fellow students:

"During the last 12 weeks we have attended this institution with similar ideas in mind. Foremost, I may say that we have been striving, and for that matter shall continue to strive, to attain that standard of perfection that will enable us to go forth from this place as real assets in the field of education.

"Members of the senior A class, I wish to congratulate you for the efforts you have put forth in making the past 12 weeks a great benefit through your wise and prudent actions in regard to all student activities and school affairs. Your standards of scholarship have been good, and will stand as an incentive to those who come after you. You as a class are truly able to look back on the grand old school life with a great deal of satisfaction.

"Members of the senior A class, I wish to assure you, on behalf of the senior B class, that we shall endeavor, to the best of our ability, to maintain the high standards that have been given us by this year's senior A class and carry on the work which you have thus far advanced so well. We, as members of the senior B class, will take up the work with a sense of obligation to the memory of former classes and hereby resolve that the work for which this year's senior A class have given the most serious thoughts and precious moments of their lives shall not have been in vain. Your ideals shall become firmly established in the hearts of future students of this institution."

Start Y. W. C. A. Curtains

Work on the curtains for the Y. W. C. A. room was started last Friday afternoon by Normal girls who spent their vacation in Cheney, members of the Y. W. C. A. advisory board and faculty members. About half of the work was completed. At 4 o'clock refreshments were served by the dean in her reception room.

It is believed that the curtains can be finished and hung in time for the Y. W. C. A. social meeting, which will be held December 25.

DRAMA CLUB GIVES "CLARENCE" TONIGHT

Work of Associate Cast in Protecting the Play is Commended by Dr. H. H. Young.

"Clarence," a four-act comedy by Booth Tarkington, will be presented in the Normal auditorium tonight, under the direction of Dr. H. H. Young, by the following cast:

Clarence, Arthur Magary; Mr. Wheeler, Walter Ottomeier; Mrs. Wheeler, Rosie McClure; Bobby, Walter Black; Cora, Marilla Dayman; Mrs. Martyn, Virginia Showalter; Violet Pinney, Gladys Winn; Della, Maurine Clancy; Hubert Stem, Clark Frasier; Dinwiddie, William Knuth.

"The work of the associate cast, which has been carried on very largely for the purpose of protecting the play, has been much appreciated," says Dr. Young. "We have been more or less handicapped from the beginning on account of a shortage of books, and the spirit in which this difficulty has been met is indeed commendable."

TWELVE MEN WILL BE GIVEN LETTERS

Eight Sweaters Will Be Awarded This Year.—James Makes Only Perfect Record of Season.

Twelve members of the Normal football squad will be awarded letters soon. Any member of the squad who plays in 50 per cent of the quarters played during the season is entitled to a sweater. Eight of the 12, being first-year men, will receive an athletic sweater in addition to the letter.

Those who will receive sweaters and letters are:

Theo Miller, Jesse West, Stanley Wynstra, Edwin Koch, Leon Woodrow, Clair Crisp, Dwight James and Fred Lehman.

The following men received sweaters last year and will be awarded letters only this year:

Will Knuth, Forest Swank, Fred Howe and Wieber Wynstra.

Dwight James was the only member of the squad to play every quarter this year. Twenty-three quarters were played by the Normal team.

Before entering the Normal last September, James attended the Cheney high school, where he played a tackle position for three years.

Get Teachers' Certificates

Anna G. Carssow, Ruth M. Hubbell and Froeda Nelson, Normal school students, took the recent state teachers' examination and have been awarded certificates.

FOURTEEN ASK FOR TWO-YEAR DIPLOMAS

Eight Students Are Candidates for Elementary Certificates at the Close of Fall Quarter.

Unofficial lists of students who will receive certificates at the close of the fall quarter have been compiled as follows:

Elementary diploma—Phyllis Gail Buchanan, Margaret Wilson Telford; Ellen Margaret Currie, Olga Marie Beach, Frances Dorothea Bloom, Cornelia Edith Box, Grace E. Dieus, Alice Jane Frasier, Alice E. Lambrecht, Orval J. Mast, Bessie Christina Norling, Margaret Louise Swanson, Charlotte R. Whitford and Willie B. Wood.

Elementary certificates—Myrte E. Crane, Elizabeth M. Engdahl, Thelma M. Jennings, Hazel M. Kellogg, Edith C. Lowry, Mabel R. Moore, Agnes E. Nordlund and Julia V. Olston.

Needs English Instruction

Ralph Earle Tiejie, Jr., arrived early Sunday morning.

NORMAL TO COMPETE FOR A SILVER CUP

Ellen H. Richards Club Will Conduct Sale of Christmas Seals for Conference Honors.

Students of the Normal school, in competition with the student bodies of Whitworth college, Spokane college, Spokane university and Holy Names academy, will sell Christmas seals in this community, beginning December 9. The sale will be conducted under the auspices of the Ellen H. Richards club.

The school selling the most seals per capita will receive a silver cup, according to Mrs. C. E. Mallette, chairman of the Spokane County Anti-Tuberculosis league. The cup will become the permanent property of the school that earns it for three successive years. A pennant will be awarded the school winning second place.

Leone McBride, president of the Ellen H. Richards club, has appointed the following team captains:

Senior Hall—Rachel de Heus and Mae Elkins.

Monroe Hall—Korah Mathieson and Hazel Kidder.

Off Campus Girls—Mrs. Clark Frasier.

Off-Campus Boys—Ferdinand Ottomeier.

Apache Club—Fred Lehman.

Helen Laumuster, a member of the junior A class, entertained at assembly last Tuesday with a violin solo. She was accompanied by Laura Karn.

PRESENT OPERETTA HERE DECEMBER 12

One Hundred and Twenty North Central Students Will Appear in "Swords and Scissors."

One hundred and twenty students of the North Central high school, Spokane, will present the operetta, "Swords and Scissors," in the Normal school auditorium on Monday night, December 12. The operetta will be given as a regular lyceum course number, and Normal school students will be admitted without charge. School children will be admitted for 25 cents each, and a general charge of 50 cents to the public will be made.

The North Central students will arrive Monday afternoon, and will be entertained at Monroe Hall at dinner in the evening. Among the faculty members who will accompany the cast is Miss Lucile Elliott, dramatic coach, a graduate of the Normal school.

Relative to the production, a recent number of the North Central News carried the following story:

"Final arrangements were completed last Tuesday, following a long distance telephone conversation between C. Olin Rice, director of music in North Central, and J. D. Cline, director of music at Cheney Normal school, for the presentation of the operetta, "Swords and Scissors," in the auditorium of the State Normal school at Cheney, on the evening of December 12.

"According to Mr. Rice, 'the object of the trip is to create an interest in the operatic and musical activities of the school and reward the cast for their strenuous efforts in making the operetta a success.'

"In accordance with the agreement between Mr. Rice and Mr. Cline, the expenses of the trip will be borne by the Cheney Normal school and the admission price will be low enough practically to make only expenses.

"This is the first time in the history of the school that a school musical organization has appeared outside of Spokane, and I earnestly hope that this venture will prove successful so that we may continue the practice in the future," stated Miss Lucile Elliott, dramatic coach of the opera.

"Approximately 120 persons will make the trip to Cheney. This number will embrace the operetta cast of 57, 19 dancers, an orchestra of 33 pieces and others.

"Members of the faculty who will make the trip to Cheney include: C. Olin Rice, director of music; Miss Lucile Elliott, dramatic coach; Miss Elsa Pinkham, director of dances, and Miss Grace Baker, wardrobe designer."

High School Journalism

Many high schools of the Inland Empire are beginning to delve in the field of journalism. For several years it has been customary for high schools to conduct special departments in the newspapers of their communities, oftentimes giving appropriate names to the departments and carrying special date lines. That practise is still generally observed where conditions do not permit of the publishing of a separate school paper.

Newspapers from three high schools, Hillyard, Pullman and Wilson Creek, have recently come to the Normal school. The publication of these papers was begun this year. "The Mallet," edited by Mattie Mae Stone, is published by the Hillyard high school; "Hi Times," edited by Dayton F. Archer, is published by the Pullman high school; and "The Purple and Gold," edited by Lenore Maltbie, is published by the Wilson Creek high school. "The Purple and Gold" is a four-page, mimeographed paper. It shows what can be accomplished even under adverse conditions.

"The Apple Leaf," published by the students of the Wenatchee high school, is a well established high school paper. It is edited this year by James Welch. "The High School Booster," edited by Olen Andrew, is published by the students of the Palouse high school. The paper is in its third year.

It is probable that there are many other high school publications in the Inland Empire of which the State Normal school at Cheney has no knowledge. It would like to get in touch with all such publications. If possible, it would like to receive copies of the school sections published in town papers, such as "The Bulletin," published by the Colfax high school, and "The Spectator," published by the Deer Park high school. All high schools of eastern Washington are on the exchange list of the State Normal School Journal.

The interest which high school students are showing in journalistic enterprises is to be commended. The tendency to get away from the idea of an annual, which tells nothing that is not already well known and costs a great deal, and to substitute for it a weekly or semi-monthly newspaper, is also to be commended. There is little demand for expensive ornaments in American life. If a thing is expensive and only slightly serviceable, it should be discarded.

Instruction in journalism is being given in the State Normal school at Cheney this year for the first time. Its object is not to make newspaper men and women, but rather to teach the value of journalism as an educational agency; to train teachers to supervise properly school publications; to give instruction in the writing and the evaluation of news; and, lastly, to train teachers to cultivate student publications as a means of arousing interest in correct writing.

FORUM

Editor: I acknowledge gratefully the receipt of the copy of the State Normal School Journal, Vol. 6, No. 8, for Friday, November 11. I have read it with great interest and appreciation. Will you correct one minor statement which it contains in the brief article entitled "Whitman College?" The closing sentence reads: "Degrees are being offered in all of the professional courses." This is quite the reverse of the case, for Whitman College offers no degrees whatsoever in professional courses. It confines its work to the bachelor's degree and offers three degrees, A. B., B. S. and B. Mus. It believes that persons who wish to enter the professions should secure a bachelor's degree before studying for a doctor's degree.

Very truly yours,
—Stephen L. Penrose

To the Journal:

Say, isn't it the bunk, when after a yell practice or rally, they tell you "Rotten! No good! You ought to hear Idaho yell!" and all such encouragement? Why don't they give us a list of all the songs and yells of our Normal and a period every week, say during assembly on Wednesday, to practice them?

That's how they build up efficiency in the rooting force at bigger institutions. That's how they do it at Idaho. Maybe then we could have the pep and snap that go with the school spirit and rooting of other colleges. We have the crowd and the proper feeling; all we need is a knowledge of the songs, and yells. When we have the ways and means, we, too, might have this snap and pep; we might win a few more games; we might say proudly and honestly, "They say that old Cheney, she ain't got no pep; we'll say she has, YES, she has, SHE HAS!"

—ANAN E. MOUS

Who's Who

Webster Mitchell, president of the Apache club, is a graduate of the Almira high school. He was president of the older boys' conference held at Cheney in March, 1921. He was class president during his senior year in the high school. This is his second quarter in the Normal school. He is a member of the Normal football squad this year.

Jessie Finlay, president of Senior Hall, is a graduate of Millwood high school. This is her second year at the Normal school. She is a member of the students' advisory board and takes an active part in the work of the Y. W. C. A.

Rosie McClure, house president of Monroe Hall, is from Mondovi. Miss McClure has attended school in Cheney for five years, being graduated from the eighth grade at the Training school and from the Cheney high school. She is a junior C at the Normal this quarter. While in high school, Miss McClure was vice president of the class in both her sophomore and senior years, and was a member of the L. Y. R. club. She is a member of the Dramatic club of the Normal school.

Jimmie's Letter

Dear Ma—You remember when I was home for Thanksgiving ma, I told you about a pipe organ we was planning to get for the auditorium of the Cheney normal school. Well ma, we never will get that organ if we dont raise the money to pay for it and I'm the kind of fellow who believes in doing his duty so ask Pa to send me 50 cents extra right away for I believe the students are going to pay 50 cents apiece before Christmas as a sort of Christmas gift and you dont want your son to be at the foot of the procession, ma.

If someone was only to call on me to give a speech in assembly ma, I know I could wake them up and give them some pep. There aint any too much pep among the students around this school ma, and it seems that they are perfectly content to leave things that way for Ive been here since the Cheney normal opened last September and I aint been asked to do nothing to liven up school spirit. If I was only asked to be a member of the Journal staff I know that I could write something that would surprise folks and make them sit up and take notice but it seems that I'm always being kept down. It makes me think at time that all the students here is jealous of me or something like that. Aint that an awful spirit, ma?

Well ma, even if I aint appreciated the way I had ought to be I aint going to sulk around like some folks I know that never wants to help things along unless they are riding in the front seat at the head of the parade. I'm going to get in and work for the organ fund and some day a lot of these wise guys that has been slighting me will be ashamed of themselves when they put some sort of a tablet on the organ which will read like this:

"In memory of Jimmie who did his part to see that the organ was put where it belonged in the Cheney normal and didnt ask no favors of no one but did his duty whenever and wherever he seen it."

Your loving son,
—Jimmie

P. S. Ma, if I hadnt went home for Thanksgiving I believe I would of been invited to dinner at Monroe Hall. I heard the other day that they was terrible short of men for Thanksgiving and that Miss Wilson was out scouting for some to fill up the vacant places. Ma, thats the kind of hard luck I'm having all the time.

WALLA WALLA LEADS IN ORGAN PLEDGES

Nearly $200 Pledged by Teachers of Walla Walla, Columbia and Garfield Counties Recently.

Pledges and contributions amounting to $285.80 were received for the pipe organ fund during Thanksgiving week. The largest amount came from the Walla Walla institute, attended by the teachers of Walla Walla, Columbia and Garfield counties. Fifty-three new pledges were received at Walla Walla. Miss Kittie Dell Owens of Walla Walla, a member of last year's class, pledged $5.

Thirteen pledges, amounting to $46.80, were made at the joint Franklin-Benton institute at Prosser last week, and Spokane county teachers pledged $32.40. A complete canvass of Spokane county will be made next month.

The Walla Walla institute was attended by Vice President C. S. Kingston, Dean J. E. Buchanan and Dr. W. J. Wilson. The Cheney alumni and former students held a banquet at Hotel Grand on Tuesday evening, November 22, at which time organ pledge cards were signed.

Complete accounts of the "Cheney meetings" held at recent institutes will be published in the "organ number" of the Journal next week.

Facts About Washington

Vancouver is the oldest city in the state of Washington. It was founded by the Hudson Bay company in 1825.

Mount Rainier and many of the prominent places on Puget Sound were named by the British explorer, George Vancouver, in 1792.

The population of Washington, according to the federal census of 1920, is 1,356,621.

The percentage of illiteracy in the state has decreased from 2 per cent to 1.7 per cent since 1910.

Who will appear in "The Dancing Fool" at the Normal auditorium on Saturday evening, December 3.

Senior Hall

Lois Douglass of Walla Walla is a guest of her sister, Helen Douglass.

Mrs. Merle Lockwood of Lind was a week-end guest of M. McDermott.

Hilda Woodburn of Lind was a week-end guest of Helena Davis.

Franchon Metz, now teaching at Hatton, was a week-end guest of Gladys Udick and Vera Cronin.

Evard Naughten, a student of Gonzaga, was a guest of Frances Naughten.

Elmer Walz of Spokane was a guest of Margaret Purcell on Sunday.

Claud Kunz of Wilbur was a guest of Bonnie and Pearl Kunz on Wednesday and Thursday.

Senior Hall girls remaining over the Thanksgiving vacation had no time to become lonesome. On Thursday the girls had a very "quiet" slumber party in the living room. Friday evening Dean Spaeth gave an informal dance for the girls at Senior Hall, inviting many guests.

APACHE CLUB

Those of the Apache club spending the Thanksgiving in various places were:

James B. Craver, Kennewick; Burling V. Lee, Eugene Bowman, Leon Woodrow, Fred Lehman, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Frasier, Spokane; Will Knuth, Paul Blauert, James O'Neil, Phineas Pearl, Spangle; Harold Heron, Sunset; Harold Phelps, Lamont; James Martin, Newport; Robert Osborne, Elk; Alvin White, Almira.

Fred Lehman has left the Apache club and is staying with relatives in Spokane. He will leave school and take a position as teacher at the end of the fall quarter.

Phineas Pearl was given a birthday surprise party at his home, three miles north of Spokane, Sunday, by friends from the Apache club, who had remained in Cheney for the Thanksgiving vacation.

Rural Schools His Hobby

A personal sketch of President Showalter is contained in the November number of the Washington Education Journal. "Improvement of the rural schools of Washington is the chief hobby of President Showalter," the article states, adding that "his interests are manifold. He is a careful student of economics, and his suggestions are always warmly received by groups of business men. His knowledge of rural problems keeps him in close touch with leaders of movements to better rural conditions, and he writes frequently for farm publications.

"He has been an ardent supporter of any movement tending to give the boys and girls of the country a fair chance to get on in the world in competition with city boys and girls. He believes the drift of people from the country to the city is one of the most dangerous of present-day tendencies, calling alike for the expert attention of economists and educators."

* Rest for Journal Staff *
* Owing to the extra work incident to the closing of the fall quarter, there will be no student Journal next week. The staff will be given a vacation, and a special alumni number will be prepared. One thousand copies of this edition will be distributed among the alumni of the northwest in the interest of the pipe organ fund. *

Turkey Day Is Kind to Monroe Hall Students

Thanksgiving turkey didn't pass up Senior and Monroe Halls in spite of the fact that only 53 of the 200 girls boarding at the hall did not go to their own homes for Thanksgiving. The turkey was as juicy and tender as any "home" turkey, and not only that—there was oyster stuffing, cranberry jelly, and, last but not least, mince pie with flaky crust.

A dance was held in the big living room at Senior Hall Friday night and all the eligibles of the D. T. E.'s (down town element) were invited. For once there were enough men to go around.

Debate Four Times

Four debates will be held in assembly next week. The dates for them are December 5, December 6, December 7 and December 9. Each main speech will last five minutes, and one minute and a half will be given to refutation. The questions and those who have signed up so far are:

Resolved: That the Philippine Islands Should Be Given Their Independence by 1925; Earl Fairbanks, Clark Frasier, A. Heid and Ted Smith.

Resolved: That the "Educational Code" as Submitted to the Washington Legislature Last Year Should Be Adopted by the State of Washington; Ruth M. Adams, Virginia Showalter, Dorothy Allen and Phineas Pearl.

Resolved: That the State of Washington Should Enact a Minimum Wage Law for Both Men and Women in All Industries.

Resolved: That the United States Should Cancel the Surplus Indebtedness Owed Her by the Allied Nations, Incurred During the Recent World War.
